Brack-Cases: more than 10,000 world-wide

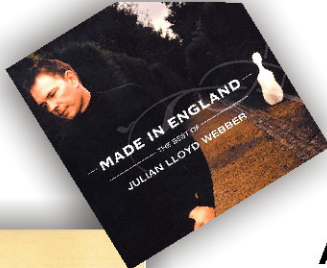

Brack-Cases have been trusted by musicians since 1990; from advanced students to world-class cellists such as Yo-Yo Ma, Julian Lloyd Webber, and Heinrich Schiff. With good looks, great protection, outstanding quality and featherlight weight, Brack cases are the choice for the demanding musician.

Peter Brack, a plastics technician, makes each Brack-Case by hand guaranteeing the highest quality and level of finish of each case. You can be sure that your precious instrument can be safely carried under both ordinary and extraordinary conditions.

"The Brack-Case is unsurpassed with its handiness, light weight and protection. The elegant look and the sunlight protecting white are additional benefits." Markus Stocker, cellist.

Advantages of Brack-Cases

Thanks to the composite sandwich material technology, the Brack case is featherlight, only 3.5 kg (7½ lbs.). Yet it is also extremely strong. Brack-Case provides optimal crash protection. It also aids in the protection of your valuable instrument from heat and cold. With its user-friendly locking system: Brack-Case's four lockable attaché closures guarantee fast and trouble-free handling.
